

Reality Check

Reality is the dream you once dreamt too fast...woke up and it was too late.

"I feel that life management classes Ashley provides to students, helps them prepare for the future and life's unexpected challenges. Speakers from colleges, a women's aide group, and even a recovering anorexic speaker have come into my classes. Students are shown for every decision a person makes there are consequences that must follow, we like to call this the game of life," stated Ms. Sherry

Reichard. Taking classes such as health, personal living, family living, and even consumer economics gives you a very good look at what life is really about. Not only does it help you get a sneak peak, but helps you deal with things such as many different ways to cope with your mental and physical emotions.

Not only do life management classes help prepare students for the real world, but business classes also have a major impact on the students of AHS.

Classes such as accounting, marketing, computer applications, keyboarding, and portfolio give the students a very good chance to get the basics down on computers. All these classes review what the students would expect to find if they were to continue their education into those fields.

DRINK UP Mike Bates tastes a small sample drink that is used in hospitals when patients are anorexic. The drink gives them the minerals that have been taken away from the body. "I have one word to describe that stuff....NASTY," stated Mike.
