Hoots and hollers filled the gym as soon as a baby photo of Troy William Adams appeared on the screen, and the cheering grew rowdier as all 23 members of Ashley High Schools Class of 2002 were introduced in the slide show presentation at graduation on Wednesday, May 22.

The images were borrowed from family photo albums. As babies, these seniors had gap-mouthed grins and double chins. Some wore diapers and bibs to catch drool. Some peeked out over their cribs, while others smiled down from atop their high chairs. Some sported cowboy boots and cleats; yet, it was that blue cap and gown that seniors had spent the past four years dreaming about. Stacy Densmore said, "It seems like it's taken forever, but now that it's come, I wish I could go back and do it all again."
